Winter Safety Tips

Seventeen deaths have been attributed to the cold weather conditions in the Chicagoland area so far.

Please follow these simple safety tips to protect yourself from the dangers of the bitter cold:

- If you must be outside, dress appropriately in layers to retain as much body heat as you can.
- Take frequent breaks in between strenuous outside work such as shoveling or other residential maintenance.
- Winterize your home by properly covering wind-vulnerable areas such as doors, door frames, windows and frames
- Consult the owners manual when using space heaters for proper space from drapes, bedding, or furniture.
- Never use an improper source of heat, such as a stove, to heat your home.
