On the eve of her wedding, the neighborhood is abuzz with gossip: Will Agnes be turned away at the altar? The whole parish knows Agnes's not-so-well-kept secret. As her mother falls further into dementia and her younger sister is caught stealing, Agnes must keep her family together, while creating a life of her own.

Suzanne portrays both Agnes and her mother from Brendan O'Carroll's The Young Wan. You will be charmed by this story of the hilarious and hardscrabble beginnings of the ultimate Irish mother.

Fire Prevention Week

Fire Prevention Week is just around the corner. This year fire departments around the country will host fire safety activities October 5-11. The Addison Fire District will be busy visiting schools around Addison as well as preparing for our annual open house on Saturday, October 11. Mark your calendar and plan to attend. The open house is fun for the entire family.

The theme for 2003 is "Get Out!, Stay Out!" We will be focusing on the importance of home fire escape planning. Fire can spread rapidly through your home, leaving you as little as two minutes to escape safely. Your ability to get out depends on advance warning from smoke alarms, and advance planning—a home fire escape plan that everyone in your family is familiar with and has practiced.

What does it take to have a fire escape plan?

- ✓ Pull together everyone in your household and make a plan. Walk through your home and inspect all possible exits and escape routes.
- ✓ Choose an outside meeting place (i.e. neighbor's house, a light post, mailbox, or stop sign) a safe distance in front of your home where everyone can meet after they've escaped.
- ✓ Be fully prepared for a real fire: when a smoke alarm sounds, get out immediately.
- ✓ Once you're out, stay out! Under no circumstances should you ever go back into a burning building.
- ✓ Practice your home fire escape plan twice a year, making the drill as realistic as possible.

Did You Know?

In the United States, someone is fatally injured in a home fire roughly every 170 minutes.

Having a working smoke detector in your home will cut your chances of dying in a home fire by 50%.

Fifteen of every 16 homes (94%) in the United States have at least one smoke alarm.

One-half of home fire deaths occur in the 6 % of homes with no smoke alarms.

Welcome

This past August the members of the Addison Fire District welcomed William Justiz as the department's newest firefighter/paramedic. Before coming to Addison, Justiz served for two years as a paramedic with the Chicago Fire Department.

FFPM Justiz is congratulated by Fire Commissioner Tom Ehler

News from the Village of Addison

Autumn 2003

From the Mayor's Desk ...

I hope that most of our residents had the opportunity to spend some time at the Community Days festival last month, spending time with their neighbors while enjoying delicious food and great entertainment. For 25 years, this annual "goodbye" to summer has been organized by the volunteers of the Community Council of Addison, and I commend them for their tireless efforts. Their work involves so much more than the four days of the fest.

Coming together to work for the benefit of our community is one of the things that make Addison a great place to live and work. In addition to the members of the Community Council, there is another group that works hard for others – the committee that coordinates the annual Mayor's Community Charity Ball.

Members of each of the 14 participating organizations have already begun planning what we hope will be our most successful event ever. This is a tremendous goal to meet, since last year's gala raised more than $38,000 for local causes. But we know that our community continues to exceed expectations when it comes to helping those in need, especially as the holiday season approaches.

While I am proud to host this event, it's important for me to remind you that every bit of our profit goes to help local charities and service organizations. This year's recipients will be: Addison Community Switchboard, Rotary Club of Addison, Kiwanis Club of Addison, Addison Center for the Arts, Sertoma Club, American Association of University Women, Concord Lutheran School, Addison Trail Music Boosters, Addison Trail Theatre Boosters, Woman's Club, Knights of Columbus, Lions Club and the Addison Association of Industry & Commerce, as well as our newest member – Northeast DuPage Special Recreation Association.

The Mayor's Community Charity Ball will be held Saturday, Nov. 15 at Alta Villa Banquets. Cocktail hour is from 6 - 7:30 p.m.; dinner at 7:30 p.m., with dancing to follow. When you purchase your $55 ticket, you choose which organization(s) you would like the profits of your ticket to benefit.

A silent auction will also be held, allowing you to get a jump start on your holiday shopping, and a raffle drawing for cash prizes may give you a little extra spending money. Raffle tickets are just $5 each, or a book of 5 for $20 for a chance to win prizes of $1,000, $500 or $250. Raffle tickets are available now from any of the participating agencies.

Please join us in this tradition of making the holiday season a joyous one for everyone in our community. For more information, contact Community Relations at 693-7550.

The Silent Auction raises a substantial amount of donations for participating agencies. In past years, items have ranged from gift baskets and artwork to trips and fur coats. Here, some of last year's attendees admire jewelry up for bid.

Respectfully,

Larry Hartwig

Acting Police Chief Appointed

Deputy Chief Bill Hayden,
25-Year Department Veteran, Takes Helm

On July 31, the Village of Addison bid a fond farewell to Police Chief Mel Mack, who completed his 36-year career in Law Enforcement with his retirement from the Addison Police Department after nearly 14 years.

Deputy Chief Bill Hayden was appointed by Mayor Larry Hartwig as the Acting Chief of Police at the July 21 Village Board Meeting.

Hayden joined the Addison Police Department in 1978, rising through the ranks to be appointed Deputy Chief in 1990.

He attended the 170th Session of the F.B.I. National Academy in 1992, and is a graduate of the School of Police Staff and Command from Northwestern University.

The Police Department saw many changes and improvements under the leadership of Chief Mack, including the institution of community policing, and the department's accreditation and reaccreditation by the Commission on Accreditation of Law Enforcement Agencies (CALEA). But upon his retirement, Mack singled out both his Deputy Chiefs for praise, saying he owed much of his success to them.

"Bill has been a valued member of our Police Department for many years, and is familiar with the workings of the department and its officers," said Village Manager Joseph Block. "He is the obvious choice to take us through this transition period."

The Village Board will begin a search for a permanent replacement, and is expected to make its decision by the end of the year.

congratulates his former deputy chief on his appointment at the July 21 Village Board of Trustees Meeting.

Schools Open – Safety First

Police Beat

One of the common complaints the Police Department receives from crossing guards, parents and school staff are, the failure of motorists to use due care in school zones. This includes reports of motorists driving too fast and passing school buses loading and unloading children.

The Addison Police Department aggressively enforces traffic laws near schools and school crossing areas.

Speeding In School Zones: Remember, while school children are present, the speed limit in a marked school zone is 20 mph. If a driver is cited for speeding in a school zone, the judge can impose an additional $50 surcharge to go to the local school district safety program.

Passing a School Bus: Drivers passing a school bus loading or unloading school children will have their license suspended for three months and fined a mandatory $150 for the first infraction. If they commit a second infraction, within five years, they will be fined $500 and have their license suspended for one year.

Also, if you allow a person to operate your car and he or she illegally passes a school bus, you have to provide their name to the State's Attorney if asked. Failure to do so will cause you to face the same penalties as if you were driving the vehicle.

With help from everyone, we can have a safe and fun school year.

If you have a complaint about a member of the Addison Police Department, contact any one of the police department supervisors to voice your complaint and fill out the appropriate personnel complaint forms.

The Addison Police Department investigates all complaints against its employees in an effort to maintain the highest level of professional service to the community.

Now You See It ... Now You Don't!

The landscape on the east side of town has changed in recent months, as the Village worked with the DuPage County Forest Preserve District on the removal of a billboard near the southeast corner of Lake Street and Villa Avenue. In the past few years, the Village has had four billboards removed as the properties have been incorporated; two more will be removed in the near future.

For this latest sign removal, the Village contributed just $5,000. Thank you to DuPage Forest Preserve District President Dewey Pierotti and Commissioner Marsha Murphy for their dedication and assistance in this project.

Nardi's Sweeps Awards at 'Addison By the Slice'

After last year's huge success, one could only imagine what crowds would show up on the Village Green for "Addison By the Slice" 2003.

Last year more than 1,000 attendees came out to taste the best pizza Addison has to offer. This year attendance nearly doubled with an estimated 2,000 people coming out to vote.

Judges determined the winners in all but the top category in 2002. This year the people decided winners in every category.

And in every case, that winner was Nardi's Tower of Pizza, which took home the prize for Best Sausage, Best Thin Crust, Best Deep Dish/Stuffed, Best Specialty and the top prize, the People's Choice Award.

The 2nd Annual "Addison By the Slice" was held Tuesday, Aug. 5 in conjunction with the Addison Police Department's National Night Out celebration, as well as the Addi-

A Bit of Addison History

Addison currently has the fourth largest industrial area in the state of Illinois. But in 1940 there were no factories in the village. At the time, Martin Eggerding, who was the village president, was instrumental in attracting industrial businesses to the area.

In his own words he described how industry came to Addison, written in 1969:

There was only one (1) factory in Addison - P. A. Sturtevant, making Torque wrenches for the War Department. New factories came after the Second World War in 1945.

Roice Parker had a factory in Bellwood in a building not zoned for industry, making stainless steel coffee urns and soup kettles. He was forced to leave his place and come to Addison. He bought a 7-acre tract in Addison, west of the I.C. Railroad and put a factory there; then came Mr. Nealsen and he put his there.

I then told Parker there were 80 acres south along the I.C. belonging to his neighbor. He bought it, but he said: "I cannot use it, it is not zoned for industry." I told him to go to Wheaton and get a rezoning permit. The Zoning Board met with Parker and his attorney. The Board was against rezoning. Fortunately, I was a member of the Zoning Board and suggested a compromise, - first to rezone 40 acres, and then put restrictions into the deeds not to get smelly factories, have set back line, landscape- the Board then approved. Soon the 40 acres were sold. Now Parker came for the other 40. The Zoning Board met. I reported very favorably about him and the Board approved the second 40 acres. In a short time they were sold for industry too, a total of about 50 factories.

More land in that area west was developed for industry so there are about 130 factories.

Martin Eggerding was also instrumental in the development of Addison's infrastructure - sewers, water mains and treatment plant, as well as in the modernization of fire department equipment.

Eventually, one of Addison's streets was named for Mr. Eggerding. It is located on either side of Mill Road, just south of Interstate Highway 290.

The Addison Historical Museum, located at 135 Army Trail Road, is open Saturdays from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m.. Call 628-1433 for information.

Katherine and her husband Peter live in Carol Stream with their four children – two boys and two girls, ranging in age from 15 to 21.

Her hobbies include choral singing, golf and gardening, and when she has spare time, she enjoys spending it with her family and friends.

Illinois Arts Week Activities

The Addison Center for the Arts (ACA) and the Addison Cultural Arts Development Commission (ACADC) are planning activities to promote the 25th anniversary of Illinois Arts Week, Oct. 12 - 18. Programs are being planned for schools and the community for this celebration.

The ACA and ACADC will present their seventh performance of the Lyric Opera in the Neighborhoods with "Cinderella," to take place at Addison Trail High School on Oct. 17, 2003. Children in all of Addison's public and parochial schools in grades 4 - 6 will be bussed to A.T.H.S., where two performances will be held.

This program is partially funded by the two arts organizations, the Illinois Arts Council, a state agency, with the cooperation of Addison School District 4 and DuPage High School District 88.

Also in celebration will be the start of a four month Artist in Residency program featuring theater artist Cathleen Schandelmeier, who will work at Concord Lutheran School, Lake Park School and A.T.H.S.

The ACADC received a grant from the Illinois Arts Council for $9,600 toward the $16,000 program. This will be the ACADC's 24th Artist in Education Residency project since 1982, more than any other community in Illinois.

Schandelmeier will also work with the Addison Children's Theatre, Community Theatre, Lutherbrook Children's Center and the Senior Citizens Club.

Wood Chips Available

The Village of Addison Public Works Department maintains a supply of wood chips at the corner of Vista and Winthrop Avenues. They are available to Addison residents free of charge, and are accessible at all times.

Wood chips applied around the base of your plants provide a beneficial mulch which retains the moisture in the soil, holds down aggressive weed growth, returns nutrients to the soil, prevents lawn mowers from damaging your plants and is visually attractive.

Truckloads of wood chips are also available on a limited basis. Deliveries are made on Saturdays. To arrange for delivery of a truckload, please call the Public Works Department at 620-2020.

4 EDUCATION

Autumn
2003

Published by the Board of Education of School District 4

New budget balances needs

At the August 19 Board of Education meeting, the board was expected to adopt the annual budget for the 2003-04 school year. The gathering of data needed to develop a budget for the eight-school, 3900-student district is a long process that begins in March and continues through the time the budget is adopted in August.

The budget developed for this new school year is a balanced one, according to Budget Committee chairman, Dave Williams, with revenues and expenditures each totalling just under $28 million. In Illinois, the majority of revenue for schools comes from local sources, primarily property taxes. State aid comes in the form of general or categorical funds. Categorical (restricted) funds are designated for specific programs such as gifted and special education, bilingual and English as a Second Language program. Federal funds are also generally restricted, meaning they can only be used for specific purposes such as Title 1 reading programs and certain lunch programs.

Planned revenue is designated for the education activities, maintenance, transportation, pension and working cash funds. Estimated expenses for these funds fall into categories as shown in the graph on the right. The largest percentage of expenses for the school district is designated for salaries.

District 4 has a history of being fiscally responsible. In an economic climate where many schools are operating at a deficit, District 4 was placed in the Financial Recognition range on the State Board of Education's 2003 School District Financial Profile. This is the highest category obtainable on the profile and it was based on the 2002 school year financial data. District 4 was one of 334 school districts out of 893 school districts received that level of recognition.

However, the administration and the school board are concerned about funding a number of larger building improvement projects that are needed to maintain the school buildings which are all more than 30 years old. In an attempt to finance these projects, the Board went to the voters of District 4 in April with a referendum asking for permission to sell up to $30 million in building bonds. This was the first time the Board had gone to referendum since 1972. Unfortunately, the referendum failed and the Board has had to make some hard decisions.

Williams reported that several months ago the school board asked the administration to make $500,000 in budget cuts. With the probability of decreased

A visit with Judy Bormann

Judy Bormann knows Addison schools. She was involved in the schools as a parent during the 1970s and 1980s when her three oldest children attended District 4 schools and she has continued this connection during the 1990s and 2000s with her three youngest children attending District 4 schools.

Bormann studied to become a registered nurse, but her strong commitment to volunteerism has been a full time career for most of her adult life. Bormann spent many years as an active member of the PTA and the Addison Substance Responsibility Commission, which was the originator of the SNOW programs in Addison. She and her husband Wayne have served as foster parents for 21 children, primarily babies with medical needs. Bormann has also served as a member of the District 4 Board of Education for 25 years.

Judy Bormann

Bormann was first encouraged to run for a position on the school board in 1976 by Fullerton School principal Dr. Daryl Unnasch. At that time, she was serving her first term as Fullerton's PTA president.

While noting that the focus of providing students a quality education has remained a constant over the years, Bormann commented on the many changes she's seen during her tenure.

"Things are always changing, which is what makes it so interesting. It's mind-boggling to see the changes in the area of technology--today's students don't know school without computers," said Bormann. "Over the years we've changed our custodial service, instituted a hot lunch program, changed busing and closed and opened schools. As a school board we are always evaluating how each of the changes we make will impact the students and their families."

Bormann lists financial issues as a serious concern currently facing the board. Administrators and board members spend a great deal of time deciding how to maintain the quality of education and the condition of the school buildings when funds are not available.

When asked for highlights of her time on the board, Bormann cites her involvement with the superintendent search committee that hired Dr. Larry Weck in 1983.

When concrete work, needed to replace deteriorating walkways, was completed over summer, a new planter area was created in front of Indian Trail.

Years of service recognized

District 4 has been fortunate to employ many dedicated educators over the years. The following individuals will be recognized for having reached milestones in their careers in Addison at the annual District 4 Institute Day breakfast held at Alta Villa Banquet Hall on August 25. District 4 is grateful for the long term commitment of the following seven teachers and two Educational Support Personnel.

Bormann also is pleased with the way the teacher/board negotiations process has evolved. Bormann had seen a presentation by a school board that had worked out a unique method of negotiating contracts. This information served as a building block in the development of the Addison Plan which District 4 continues to use quite successfully.

"I've developed good relationships with so many teachers and people throughout town due to my involvement with the schools and that has helped me do this job better," says Bormann. "Serving on the Board of Education has really been enjoyable for me."

Artists use concrete blocks for canvas

In recent months the walls at Indian Trail have become more than just a place to hang posters and announcements. A giant-sized work of art was created in the east stairwell of the round building by teacher Susan Lesmeister and a group of 8th grade artists. Jennifer Dietzler, Jenny Jakubowski, Yesenia Mexicano, Amanda Snell, Berenice Gomez and Mayra Gonzalez spent countless after school hours designing and painting a wall full of cartoon characters that are a colorful addition to this highly travelled stairway. They also created a mural adjacent to this wall which shows a car coming through a brick wall. This is the area where the artist's signed their work.

Elsewhere in the building, long-time District 4 employee Jeff Dengler was in the process of repainting walls when Director of Buildings and Grounds, Russ Budzban, decided to let Dengler try his hand at creating a mural on a wall at the end of the long basement hallway. The mural includes six pillars and the character traits which are emphasized in the CHARACTER COUNTS! program. This painting was done in the school colors of purple and white.

After seeing the positive reaction to the pillars, former IT principal John Langton asked Dengler to develop a design for an area of blank wall located on the south side of the Commons that would highlight Addison's cultural diversity. Dengler, who studied Art History at Eastern Illinois University, began researching local history and started working on sketches. Since the wall parallels Army Trail Road, Dengler incorporated the theme of trails into his design, painting scenes that serve as windows into three different time periods in Addison. The first scene depicts native Americans and early pioneers who used the 'Indian Trail' for travel. A second panel represents the German immigrants who settled in Addison as well as the Heidemann Mill and Lutheran Orphanage that were a part of Addison's early history. The final panel, a modern day 4th of July parade scene, shows the diverse mix of people who now call Addison home.

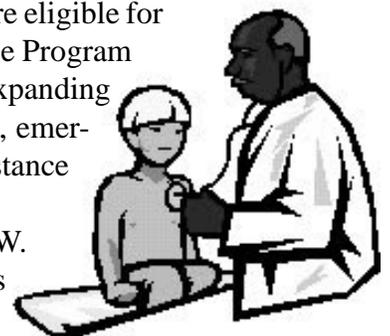

Health care insurance information

Health care coverage is a pressing challenge for many families. Uninsured children are more likely to suffer from earaches, sore throats and asthma--common childhood illnesses that force students to miss school and make it harder for those children to succeed academically.

Many children in the United States who do not have health care coverage are eligible for low-cost or free health care coverage through the State Children's Health Insurance Program (SCHIP) or Medicaid. In July, Illinois Governor Blagojevich signed legislation expanding the KidCare and FamilyCare programs which pay for doctor visits, hospital care, emergency services, specialty medical services, prescription drugs, immunizations, substance abuse services, dental and eye care and other services.

For questions or to start the application process, call 1-877-KIDS-NOW. Callers will be connected to an operator in Illinois. Information and applications are also available online at www.state.il.us/dpa/kidcare.

NOTICE TO PARENTS OF NON-PUBLIC SCHOOL K-8 CHILDREN

Any non-public school kindergarten through 8th grade students residing in the attendance area of Addison District 4 that do not attend St. Philip the Apostle, St Joseph or Concord Lutheran Schools may be eligible to receive educational services.

If interested in determining eligibility, please contact Jim Frontier, Director of Curriculum at 630-458-2440.

CHARACTER COUNTS! update

"This country will not be a good place for any of us to live in unless we make it a good place for all of us to live in." — Theodore Roosevelt, U.S. president

The message of the CHARACTER COUNTS! program is one that bears repeating. It is important to be to be a person of good character. It really matters. It makes a difference when people display the characteristics of trustworthiness, respect, responsibility, fairness, caring and citizenship. In short, character counts!

District 4 students will once again be hearing the language of the CHARACTER COUNTS! initiative in their classrooms. They will be reminded that they should think about the decisions they make each day, evaluating how they align with the six pillars of character. Students will be recognized for the good choices they make. When they make poor choices, they will need to identify the ways in which they have not displayed the traits of good character.

The goal of raising terrific (Trustworthiness Respect Responsibility Fairness Caring Citizenship) kids is one that can and should be shared by the entire community. For more information on how the CHARACTER COUNTS! philosophy is being implemented in communities around the country, check the website at www.charactercounts.org.

Trustworthiness * Respect * Responsibility * Fairness * Caring * Citizenship

Local business offers support for schools

Office Depot is running a "5% Back to Schools" promotion through the end of December where customers can support their local schools every time they shop for supplies. When shopping at Office Depot, customers can name a District 4 school--Ardmore, Army Trail, Fullerton, Indian Trail, Lake Park, Lincoln, Stone or Wesley--and the store will credit 5% of the purchase to the school named. Schools will, in turn, receive a store credit voucher with which they can purchase supplies.

Visit Office Depot on Rohlwing Road for details.

funding from the State of Illinois and increasing costs, there was a need to reduce expenditures. These cuts were made primarily in the area of staffing.

"This budget allows us to handle the general maintenance items needed to keep the schools in good working condition," said Williams. "Unfortunately, we will not be able to address the 'big ticket' special projects that we had planned to complete if the referendum had passed."

The 2003-04 fiscal year budget is available for viewing on the District 4 website, www.asd4.org.

Creating Opportunities for Student Achievement

Preparations for Incoming Freshman

Addison Trail High School opened the 2003-04 school year on August 27, but the preparations for students began months ago.

In January, incoming freshman and their parents participated in a "Course Information Night" that introduced students to the academic classes, electives and co-curricular offerings available. Placement tests were then conducted in March and the results helped the high school guidance counselors select courses that students could enroll in based on their individual skills.

The placement tests were critical because they also helped to identify students who were not demonstrating the skills necessary for ninth grade reading and math. In order to prepare these students for high school, District 88 developed a new summer school program. The goal was to improve the skills of students whose test results were below grade level on the high school entrance exams.

For six weeks during June and July, 76 incoming students at Addison Trail and Willowbrook High Schools participated in summer school classes for reading, math or both subjects. Students who successfully completed the program received one-half credit per subject area. The results from the program were positive and reflected a 1.75 average grade level increase in reading and a 1.9 grade level increase in math. Perhaps more important than test scores,

Advanced Placement Enrollment and Test Scores Increase

The 2002-03 school year marked an all-time high for the number of students enrolled in Advanced Placement (AP) courses at Addison Trail. In total, 140 juniors and seniors participated in challenging college-level courses in six different subject areas that included Art, English, Foreign Language, Mathematics, Music and Science.

The classes are designed to prepare students for the AP exams, which are taken in the spring of each year. Addison Trail posted exceptional scores this year with 77% of students scoring 3 points or higher (5 point scale) on a record number of 266 tests taken.

Upperclass students participated as leaders in the F.A.S.T. (Freshman Are Students Too!) program and facilitated group discussions in August 2002. This year approximately 60 students volunteered for the team, which helped to welcome and orientate the Freshman Class of 2007 on August 18.

however, is that our students feel better academically prepared to begin their high school career.

In addition to the students preparing for the new school year, the administration and staff have been developing a "teams model" that schedules freshman students and teachers into small learning teams. Teachers from different subject areas will not only share the same group of students, but also share the responsibility for instruction, evaluation, discipline and organization of time. The teaming approach creates a "homeroom" for students to help ease their transition to high school. In addition, the teams can build a sense of community, which enables students to meet higher standards.

The data in this chart reflects the number of students enrolled in Advanced Placement Courses at Addison Trail from 1995-2002. Comparatively, it reports the number of AP Tests taken and the percentage of tests passed with a score of 3 or higher.

Most of the nation's colleges and universities award credit, advanced placement, or both based on successful performance on the AP Exams. Thirty-four AP Exams are offered in a wide variety of subject areas.
